

BRUINGTON ENGINEERING, LLC Asset Management

Bruington Asset Management (BAM) was formed to partner with banks and private equity firms to improve the overall performance of assets by optimizing current and future operations. BAM provides asset confidence and understanding from top to bottom of technical, operational, and financial avenues. Whether the need is contract operating, technical support, or A&D support, BAM strives to provide leadership the confidence they need to meet their goals.

The BAM Difference

- Small core group > quick and efficient implementation
- Diverse group of multi-faceted professionals > we do more with less
- Tailored solutions > directly address current goals
- Widespread technical experience > dependable decisions
- Critical thinking skills > provides unique solutions

For over 34 years, the professional engineers of Bruington Engineering, LLC have provided unparalleled petroleum engineering and consulting services to a broad range of oil and gas interests across the United States.
